

We are delighted to be taking applications for the Macmillan Practice Nurse Programme 2022

Cancer as a long-term condition: Treatment and Care

A Continuous Professional Development Course for Registered Practice Nurses.

Macmillan Cancer Support has developed a programme specifically for Practice Nurses to enable you to enhance your knowledge and skills in cancer care.

This is a free blended learning programme that incorporates e-learning, self-directed learning and virtual facilitated sessions. We estimate that it will take between 20-25 hours in total to complete over a 5-month period. A certificate of achievement will be awarded upon completion of the course.

The virtual classrooms will take place on the:

September Cohort (All Thursdays):

22nd September 2022, 09:30 – 11:00 (Introduction)
10th November 2022, 09:30-13:00
8th December 2022, 09:30-13:00
9th March 2023, 09:30 – 13:00

October Cohort (All Tuesdays):

4th October 2022, 09:30 – 11:00 (Introduction)
15th November 2022, 09:30-13:00
13th December 2022, 09:30-13:00
14th March 2023, 09:30 – 13:00

Completion of all virtual classrooms are mandatory

This programme will be hosted via the Macmillan Learning and Communications Hub. Application forms can be accessed on the Hub. If you don't already have a Hub account, please sign up on the Macmillan website first.

Main Learning Outcomes

- Develop an understanding of cancer and its treatments, recognising cancer as a long-term condition
- Enhance your knowledge, skills and confidence of the PN role to take a more active role in managing cancer as a long-term condition
- Explore how you can become a resource for cancer knowledge for colleagues in the practice setting by providing holistic support to people living with and beyond cancer
- Consider and begin to plan ways in which you can improve and enhance services within your own workplace for people living with cancer
